3DMark A10 X64 vs AMD R9 290X 2GB vs AMD Radeon R9 290X 4GB Overall, we can't say the same thing about MSI's Radeon R9 390X graphics chip – that it's a powerhouse out of the box and will serve us well for the rest of 2014 and for the foreseeable future. It just hasn't quite matched up with the high-end Intel architecture we've seen here with the GTX 980 to date. The result is some serious performance, but we're not expecting to see a massive boost in performance here. We do see a huge boost in power consumption, and with its higher-end nature – the R9 390X should be a serious contender in this segment. In case you missed it and want to hear more about the latest research on "natural dieting" it's well worth checking into:..
